Mr. Vipul Shah, Chairman, GJEPC said, "Vicenza Oro winter show has been a significant platform for Indian manufacturers as Italy has been the entry point for Europe and EU countries. Our exports of gems and jewellery to Europe accounted for US$ 3.78 billion in 2022. Additionally, you get to understand the latest trends in the market apart from building relationships with new and existing buyers."

GJEPC as the apex body of gem and jewellery industry in India, has been facilitating and promoting G&J trade to cater to customers across the globe. The Indian gem & jewellery industry has invested in its 5 million-plus workforce by adopting high standards of modern infrastructure and has been providing socio-economic benefits such as, health insurance for workers and second-to-none training programs for workers amongst others. The industry's ability to satiate any kind of jewellery requirements has amazed the world. This has been possible due to the industry's willingness to embrace and adopt the latest technology.

India is the undisputed leader in manufacturing diamonds, and it is the only country that offers a truly impressive range of gems and plain and studded jewellery set with diamonds and coloured gemstones. The country manufactures polished diamonds in every shape and size and the vast product offering caters to every market in the world.

India's jewellery sector, too, has similar strengths that are hard to find at this scale and quality in a single location. Today's Indian gems blend handmade artistry with innovative, best-in-class technology to design modern jewellery. The country has gained global popularity because of its talented craftsmen, its superior practices in cutting and polishing fine diamonds, precious stones and designing jewellery.

India's gem and jewellery exports accounts for USD 40 billion per year. With 185 clusters with 1 million enterprises, the industry employs 4.3 million workers. Along with highly skilled workforce, the industry is equipped with both traditional and advanced technology and methods including artificial intelligence.

About The Gem and Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC)

The Gem & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC), set up by the Ministry of Commerce, Government of India (GoI) in 1966, is one of several Export Promotion Councils (EPCs) launched by the Indian Government, to boost the country's export thrust, when India's post-Independence economy began making forays in the international markets. Since 1998, the GJEPC has been granted autonomous status. The GJEPC is the apex body of the gems & jewellery industry and today represents 8800 members in the sector. With headquarters in Mumbai, GJEPC has Regional Offices in New Delhi, Kolkata, Chennai, Surat and Jaipur, all of which are major centres for the industry. It thus has a wide reach and is able to have a closer interaction with members to serve them in a direct and more meaningful manner. Over the past decades, GJEPC has emerged as one of the most active EPCs and has continuously strived to both expand its reach and depth in its promotional activities as well as widen and increase services to its members.
